SCIENCEPRENEURSHIP- An Irreverent Passion

Professor. Piero Formica, Thought Leader and Senior Fellow at IVI is writing an essay on scientific enterprises. We have included a section of this essay that can be viewed below:

In the late 1980s, Charles Handy, the acclaimed management scholar, wrote,

We are entering an Age of Unreason, when the future, in so many areas, is there to be shaped, by us and for us; a time when the only prediction that will hold true is that no predictions will hold true; a time, therefore, for bolder imaginings in private life as well as public, for thinking the unlikely and doing the unreasonable.

Book Launch "Essential of Software Testing"

We would like to congratulate our colleagues Dr. Ralf Bierig, Dr. Stephen Brown, Dr. Edgar Galvan and Dr. Joe Timmoney on the launch of their book last week entitled “Essential of Software Testing” (Cambridge University Press).

The purpose of the book is to introduce the reader to the essential principles of software testing, enabling them to produce high quality software.
